

THE ORDINANCES PASSED

BY THE TOWN COUNCIL AT MEETING LAST WEEK.

Trolley Franchise Given—New Pratt Grade Adopted and Two Street Extensions Made.

The Town Council met last Tuesday evening, being their regular monthly meeting, and transacted the following business. President Hamilton called meeting to order with following councilmen present: Butt, Armbr, Kitzmiller, Shearer, Beck, Tawney and Trostle. Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

John Lippy was present in relation to sewer on East Middle St., extended, and Edward Swope asked for information regarding drainage pipe across East Middle street, extended. These citizens were informed that the matter of a sewer was in the hands of the Sewer Committee.

John Shellaman stated that the grade marker at his lot on East Middle street, extended, was 14 inches higher than the grade on the other side of the street. Motion carried that the matter be referred to the Highway Committee.

The matter of the grade now on Water street was also referred to the same committee.

Edward Swope complained that the sewage from the Schriver houses on East Middle street, extended, ran over on his property.

Hon. D. P. McPherson asked as to the grade in front of the McPherson buildings on Baltimore street, between Center Square and East Middle street. He was of the opinion that the new grade might throw the ground entrance of the store room formerly occupied by John Minnigh, lower than the sidewalk. Mr. McPherson was referred to the blue prints of the grade for answer to his inquiry.

Four ordinances were then presented by the Ordinance Committee and the following action taken:

The ordinance providing for the grade, building lines, etc., according to survey of Mason D. Pratt, and establishing and confirming the same as the legal grade of the borough for the erection and construction of pavements, curbs, gutters, etc., was adopted, all councilmen present voting for same.

The ordinance ordaining and opening West Middle street from west side of West street to borough limits to the width of 50 feet, all councilmen present voting for the same.

The ordinance ordaining and opening West Middle street from west side of West street to borough limits to the width of 50 feet and repealing the former ordinance of a greater width, was adopted, all councilmen voting for the same.

The ordinance granting permission to W. H. Lanus in trust for a proposed street railway company, to construct, operate and maintain a line of street railway within the borough of Gettysburg and open certain streets and providing the conditions upon which the same may be constructed and maintained, was adopted upon votes of Councilmen Hamilton, Butt, Armbr, Shearer, Beck, Tawney and Trostle. Councilman Kitzmiller voted in the negative for the reason as given that he thought ordinance should not be passed to help any one to become a bidder for the Transit Company to be sold next week.

The publishing of the ordinances was placed in the hands of Advertising Committee and the railway ordinance it was agreed would be paid by the parties to whom franchise was given.

Borough Attorney Wible reported bond received from Keystone Electric Light, Heat and Power Co. with Central Trust and Savings Company of Philadelphia as surety, for the lighting contract recently entered into.

Mr. Wible also reported that the agreement between the Gettysburg and Petersburg turnpike and the borough of Gettysburg as to certain strips of land on Buford avenue had been executed by the Turnpike Company.

A motion prevailed that Highway Committee place two concrete crossings at the new High School building east end of borough, one on Hanover street and the other on York street.

Attention was called to the unsightly signs at Walters' Theatre built around trees, the stepping stone at John Pitzer's and the pile of stones at Wm. Johns' lot on High street and they were referred to the Highway Committee.

Secretary reported that notice had been sent as directed at previous meeting, to Dr. J. L. Hill's estate, Walter Ziegler, on Chambersburg street, and Rev. L. L. Sieber and Mrs. Carrie Stine on West Middle street to connect with the new sanitary sewer system.

Wm. Tawney appeared and claimed that he had been illegally paying taxes on a lot of ground, which he never owned, for years 1897 to 1903 inclusive, seven years' taxes amounting to $14.30, the receipts for these taxes were exhibited and motion carried that these taxes be refunded to Mr. Tawney.

Councilman Butt suggested that an engineer be secured relative to devising an outlet for sewage from East Middle Street extended and Hanover street.

Burgess Signs Ordinance.

Burgess J. A. Holtzworth on last Saturday afternoon put the approval of his office to the ordinance granting the franchise for a street railway to enter Gettysburg through the Gap farm to East Middle Street, and by that street to East Liberty Street and by last mentioned street to York street and by the latter street to the Center Square. The ordinance appears in another column. The railway company will put down a T rail and keep up street within tracks and two feet on either side. Burgess Holtzworth before signing the ordinance obtained the views of a number of our citizens on the question of the granting of the franchise. He was of the opinion that the railway should do more for the town than set out in the ordinance, but finding the sentiment of the town, as expressed by resolution of Retail Merchants' Association and many other citizens in favor of the franchise he signed the ordinance believing a large majority of our people desired him to do so.

PRETTY OUT-DOOR WEDDING.

A pretty out-door home wedding took place at the country home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard L. Diehl, on the Emmitsburg road on last Wednesday, their youngest daughter Miss May Belle Diehl, being united in marriage to James Rowe Stewart, of Phila.

The ceremony took place on the piazza of the home, and surroundings were very picturesque, when the Harrisburg Orchestra at high noon struck the first strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, and soon afterward the wedding party appeared from the house and passed through ropes of golden rod, held by the ushers to the point where the ceremony took place. Miss Katherine Duncan, as bridesmaid led the bridal party, followed by Miss Orie Sherer, of Worcester, Mass., as maid of honor. The bride entered on the arm of her father, and was met on the corner of piazza by the groom, and his best man, J. Fleming Dutch, of New York city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry Anstadt, pastor of Christ's Lutheran church.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white crepe meteor, cut en train, and trimmed with princess lace. She carried white sweet peas, and wore as her only ornament a coral cameo brooch, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor wore a gown of pale apricot chiffon cloth, over yellow messaline, and bridesmaid wore a gown of embroidered white batiste over yellow messaline and both carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

The ushers were Emmett and Frank Stewart, relatives of the groom. A reception followed the ceremony, Harrisburg caterers having charge of the wedding breakfast served.

The bride and groom left by automobile for York to take train on an extended wedding trip.

NEWCOMER — THORN — FRANK M.

Newcomer of this place and Miss

Nellie E. Thorn of Harrisburg were united in marriage in Harrisburg last Wednesday afternoon by Rev. J. B. Markward. During the day they left on a wedding trip through Maryland and West Virginia. Upon their return they will reside for a while in Harrisburg, not having decided definitely where they will make their future home. The bride is a daughter of Chief Clerk George D. Thorn of the State Department at Harrisburg and the groom is the son of S. J. Newcomer, of Rouzerville, who left Gettysburg early this year on account of his health. The groom has been manager of the Keystone Straw Stacker Co. of this place. The young people have many friends in this place.

BECHTEL—QUIMBY—Last Wednesday afternoon a romance culminated in the quiet village of Hampton which was a surprise to the friends of both parties. Miss Jane W. Quimby of Philadelphia and George S. Bechtel of Hanover being united in marriage by Justice of Peace Chester O. Chronister. The bride is a daughter of William Quimby, Esq., of Philadelphia, a former well-known attorney of Gettysburg, who now holds a responsible position in the John Wanamaker store and a granddaughter of the late Hon. David Wills, of Gettysburg. The young people met only a short while ago after return of groom from an extended western trip. Mr. Bechtel is the eldest son of the late Ellsworth and Mrs. Jennie Bechtel, of Hanover, and a grandson of the late Josiah and Mrs. Margaret Sprengle, corner York and Abbottstown Streets, Hanover with whom he makes his home.

SMITH—NOEL—At a nuptial mass in Codewago Chapel, Tuesday morning, Sept. 7, Rev. Eugene Halftermeyer officiating, James E. Smith of York, was married to Miss Edith Noel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Noel, of Mt. Rock, Adams Co. The attendants were Miss Annie Smith and Thomas Noel, brother of the bride. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home, at which the relatives of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in York.

MILLER—REILLY—Miss Marie Reilly, and Charles H. Miller, both of Harrisburg were married at Gettysburg on Sunday, Aug. 5 by Rev. Mr. Sherrick, pastor of the United Brethren church. Mr. Miller is employed at the frog and switch department of the steel works of Steelton as a machinist. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will reside in Steelton.

PAULES—TATE—A quiet wedding took place Wednesday at one o'clock at the home of Mrs. Annie Tate when Miss Elizabeth A. Tate was united in marriage to William H. L. Paules. The ring ceremony being used was performed by the brides pastor, Rev. L. Dow Ott. Only the immediate friends and relatives were present.

The funeral was held yesterday—Tuesday—with interment in St. John's Reformed Church graveyard at New Chester.

Improvement for Gettysburg.

Another improvement in the North end of Gettysburg—the leading residence section—will be the construction of a restricted residence park, to be known as Broadway Park. By a "restricted residence park" is meant that the grounds will be laid out in macadamized roads, gravel walks, lawns, flower beds, forest trees, shade trees, pergolas, pavilions, seats, and residence plots, but that it will not be a park for the use of picnics, excursions or public gatherings of any sort. Residences will be located at considerable distances from public roads.

The residence plots will each contain about twelve times as much ground as an ordinary 30 foot town lot, and will not be laid off with the square and compass, but will follow informal lines and be without solid division fences between them; low wire, stone or shrubbery fences only, to be used, a modern home not having a back yard shut off from view, but all proportions, front and rear, and sides being equally attractive in trees, lawns, shrubs and flowers—all in keeping with a modern house or bungalow having porches, winter porch or conservatory, etc.

The tract of land is situate immediately north of Broadway street and extends from east to west about 2100 ft. It fronts on the extension of Carlisle street about 1300 feet. It lies on both sides of Mummaburg street extended, to Howard avenue, and on the north is bounded by Howard avenue and land of Dr. H. B. Nixon. The tract contains about 42 acres; to give a more definite idea of this size, it is two and one-half times the size of the Gettysburg National Cemetery.

A leading landscape architect has been employed to lay out the drives, walks, residence plots, the location of shrubs, flower beds, trees—about 1200 trees will be planted at once, as it is the trees that require the longest time to produce effects—shrub and flower and lawn effects can be produced in one or two years.

The main entrance, 100 feet wide, will be from the north side of Broadway street as a continuation of North Washington street; there will also be an entrance to east and west from Mummaburg street extended, and an entrance from Carlisle street extended.

The ground at this north end section being elevated, there is always a good cool breeze from the mountains north and west, always a fine view, and with the improvements contemplated this will certainly make for those Gettysburg people, and others, who choose to locate here, an ideal home—a suburban home with all the advantages of the town, water, electric light, gas, telephone, etc.—with all that makes for comfort, pleasure, health of parents, and in a still greater degree for the health and pleasure of children. For business and professional men whose daily work is confining, the out-door life and exercise attached to such a home is specially beneficial. It will be within a fifteen minutes' walk to the business section, schools and churches of town, and can be used as a summer residence only, or a residence for all the year round.

While a forty-two acre plot is a good sized one, yet when roadways and the ground unsuitable for buildings is counted off, and the size of building plots is considered, it is evident that but a limited number of homes can be built within the park limits, and the limits cannot be increased. When all that is proposed for Broadway Park is accomplished, the residents of the north end will have a pleasant place in which to spend summer evenings and Sunday afternoons and Gettysburg will have an attractive addition.

—Prof. Jesse Benner, who has been visiting his parents near town, left last week to teach at Marietta, Ohio.

—Miss Alice Miller has returned from a trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

—Alex. J. Schwartz of Hanover called upon friends in Gettysburg last Saturday.

—The stores of Davis & Co., L. E. Kirssin and O. H. Lestz will be closed on Thursday of this week, Sept. 16, and L. E. Kirssin on Friday, being the Jewish New Year celebration. The same stores will be closed on Saturday, Sept. 25, Day of Atonement.

—Mrs. Milton R. Rummel and daughter Dorothy have returned from a two weeks' visit to Hollidaysburg, Altoona and Ocoola Mills.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Swope of Compton, Ill., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Ridinger. Mr. Swope formerly lived near Orrtanna and now owns a large plantation in Lee county, Illinois.

—Miss Ida Tingo of Philadelphia is visiting the Misses Forney at their home on Seminary Ridge.

THE GAME LAWS OF STATE

RESUME OF POINTS TO BE KEPT IN MIND BY ALL HUNTERS.

Table of Game That Can Be Killed as Prepared by the State Authorities.

A Digest of the game, fish and forestry laws of Pennsylvania by Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, Secretary of the Game Commission has just come from the press of the State printer. The pamphlet is published once in three years by direction of the Legislature. The pamphlet contains a summary of important provisions of the game laws of Pennsylvania, and such portions as are of special interest to this community follow. The table above is also taken from the pamphlet.

Constitutions of the several wards, boroughs and townships of this Commonwealth are ex-officio game wardens, and have the same power throughout the county, wherein they are elected, as have the protectors appointed by the Game Commission.

Constables are liable to fine and imprisonment, where they neglect or refuse to enforce the game laws, after their attention has been called to the matter in a prescribed form.

Any person or persons interfering with a game protector of this Commonwealth in the discharge of his duty, or resisting arrest, shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars.

A constable, where he is prosecutor, is entitled to one-half of the penalty recovered, and to ten dollars extra from the county for each conviction secured for violation of the game, fish or forestry laws.

Any citizen of the Commonwealth has the right to prosecute for the violation of the game laws, and is entitled to one-half of all penalties recovered.

Where a person is caught in the act, or is arrested for violating any law of this Commonwealth giving protection to game, song or insectivorous birds, he is to be tried summarily.

No unnaturalized, foreign-born resident can legally own a rifle or shotgun, or can hunt or shoot within the Commonwealth.

There shall be no hunting or shooting on Sunday. Penalty $25.

When an arrest is made for violation of that provision of the game law prohibiting hunting on Sunday, the evidence and record must show that game or wild birds were hunted or killed, the kind of game or birds hunted or killed had been named.

It will not do to simply charge the defendant with hunting or shooting on Sunday: the game laws of this State were passed for the protection of game, and wild birds, and not to preserve the sanctity of the Sabbath, and the courts have held that a defendant can be convicted of violating section one of the act of June 4, 1897, if it must be proved that game or a bird of some kind protected by this act was hunted or killed on Sunday.

All song and insectivorous birds are protected by the new law under the name of "wild birds" other than game birds, and not by their family or common name, this provision reads as follows:

It is illegal to catch, kill or have in possession, either living or dead (except as specifically permitted by the act), any of the wild birds of the State, other than game birds.

The provision heretofore found in our law giving land owners the right to kill birds caught in the act of destroying property was stricken out of the law by the Senate Committee on Game and Fish, upon the ground that the life work of the great majority of our birds was far more beneficial than injurious, and that the ordinary man was not in position to correctly judge upon that subject; the law, therefore, reads as it does.

The exceptions mentioned by the act above cited are birds that may be taken for the purpose of scientific study through the authority conferred by a certificate to be secured from the Board of Game Commissioners, and certain birds considered harmful. Those considered harmful are the bluejay, the English sparrow, the European starling, the kingfisher, the shrike, the eagle, buzzard, the osprey, sharp-shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk, goshawk, duck hawk, pigeon hawk, the great-horned owl, barred owl, the crane, the heron, the bittern, the crow and the raven. These birds are not protected by any law of this Commonwealth, and they may be killed at any time.

The eagle and buzzard were placed upon the unprotected list because of their disposition to feed upon carrion and the danger attached to such action through the spread of infectious and contagious diseases. The crane and heron, etc., because of their disposition to destroy fish life.

The destruction of birds' nests and their eggs is prohibited.

Penalty $50 for game birds, $10 for other birds.

Birds of a kind found in a wild State in this Commonwealth may not be legally kept in captivity no difference where they come from.

The tanned or cured skins of birds or animals legally taken either within or without the State may be retained.

The killing of game, except through the use of a gun is illegal, excepting that rabbits may be taken through the use of box traps and bears may be taken through the use of steel traps and pens.

Squirrel or rabbits known to be injuring trees or growing crops may be killed at any time, but such animals so killed cannot be used for food or be sold.

The use of what is commonly known as the automatic gun for killing game in Pennsylvania is prohibited. This applies to all kinds of automatic guns, rifles as well as shotguns.

But does not apply to pump guns or lever guns, or to any gun except those that through the recoil produced by the discharge of a loaded shell, ejects the empty shell throws a loaded shell into the barrel and cocks the gun.

It is illegal to kill game birds during the night time.

The open season for deer in this Commonwealth, is from the fifteenth day of November to the first day of December of each year, and

But one deer can be legally taken or killed in this Commonwealth during one season, which must in every instance be a male deer with horns visible above the hair.

It is illegal to have in possession or under control any deer killed in this Commonwealth or part thereof, except during the open season for such game in this Commonwealth and for thirty days thereafter.

It is illegal to make use of what is known as buck-shot in hunting deer or to kill or wound or to attempt to kill or wound any deer by or through the use of a gun of any kind, propelling or emitting more than one pellet, bullet or ball, at a deer through a single discharge.

It is illegal to kill or capture any deer in the waters of the State.

It is illegal to "make use of a dog or dogs in hunting deer" in the State.

Any dog following upon the track of deer or fawn within this Commonwealth is declared to be a public nuisance and may be killed by any person, when so seen.

Or by any officer of the State whose duty it is to protect the game of the State, within one year from the date of the commission of the offense.

And the owner of such dog shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each deer or fawn pursued, and fifty dollars for each deer or fawn killed by such dog, running-at-large without the aid of its master, and double that amount when dogs are allowed to run deer after notice, this penalty to be collected as are other penalties under the provisions of this act.

Dogs of any description may be killed by the owner or lessee of lands on which they are found, or by any officer of the State whose duty it is to protect the game of the State, when pursuing small game of any kind out of season, off land controlled by the owner of such dog, unless the dog wears a collar bearing the name and address of the owner, in which case notice must be given before the dog is killed.

It is illegal to buy or sell any deer, or ruffed grouse, commonly called pheasant, or quail, commonly called Virginia partridge, or Hungarian quail, or woodcock or wild turkey, or any part thereof, killed in this Commonwealth.

Penalty, $100 dollars for each deer or fawn, or part thereof, and $5 for each of said birds, or part thereof, bought or sold.

It is illegal to buy or sell any ruffed grouse commonly called pheasant, killed outside of the Commonwealth, except during the open season for such game in this Commonwealth, and for thirty days thereafter.

Or to buy or sell at any time within the Commonwealth any Hungarian quail, or woodcock, or wild-turkey killed outside of the Commonwealth.

Penalty, $25 for each bird or animal taken in violation of law.

All other game killed in the Commonwealth can be bought and sold during the open season for such game in the Commonwealth and for thirty days thereafter.

It is illegal to discharge on any of the streets or alleys of any city or borough of this Commonwealth, any flobert rifle, air gun or spring gun, or any implement which impels with force a metal pellet of any kind.

Guns and hunting paraphernalia will be sold unless hue and costs are paid, and the fact that imprisonment is suffered, will not effect the release of these articles.

Costs cannot be imposed upon officers, whose duty it is to enforce the game laws, said costs must be paid either by the defendant or the county. All prosecutions for violations of the game laws must be commenced within one year from the date of the commission of the offense.

Possession of game out of season, is prima facie evidence that it was taken illegally.

It is illegal to ship or remove, or to attempt to ship or remove from this State, or to knowingly permit the shipment or removal out of this State of any game bird or game quadruped except when it is to be returned to the State, except by those who have paid a non-resident license.

Penalty not less than $50, or more than $100.

Non-residents who have paid the license can carry certain game out of the State under certain restrictions.

It is illegal to ship or remove any wild bird other than a game bird or any part thereof out of the State, without permission of the president of the Game Commission, or sell or exchange parts of such birds.

Penalty not less than $50 or more than $100.

It is illegal to kill, in any one day more than five ruffed grouse, commonly called pheasant, or more than twenty of these birds in one week, or more than fifty of these birds in any one season.

It is illegal to kill, in one day, more than 10 English, Mongolian or Chinese pheasants, or more than twenty of these birds in one week, or more than fifty of these birds in any one season.

Or to kill in any one day more than ten woodcock, or more than twenty of

TRUTHFUL REPORTS.

Gettysburg Reads Them With Uncommon Interest.

A Gettysburg citizen tells his experience in the following statement. No better evidence than this can be had. The truthful reports of friends and neighbors is the best proof in the world. Read and be convinced.

Penrose Myers, 12 Baltimore St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I have to be on my feet a great deal of the time and this served to weaken my kidneys. A constant pain across my back, caused me much misery and at times was so acute that I could hardly stoop. I also had trouble from rheumatism, at times being very lame and stiff, especially in the morning. I was feeling quite miserable when my attention was drawn to Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box at The People's Drug Store. They effected a complete cure and I am today without a sign of kidney trouble."

Governors of Pennsylvania

WILLIAM BIGLER—1852-1855.

William Bigler, who served as governor of Pennsylvania from Jan. 20 1852, to Jan. 16, 1855, received his education in a newspaper office. Of German ancestry, he was born in 1813 at Shermansburg. William Bigler established the Clearfield Democrat and became through his influence quite a power politically. Afterward, in 1836, he embarked in the lumber business.
In 1841 he was elected to the state senate. Mr. Bigler was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1854 but was defeated. He made a successful campaign for the nomination in 1851 and was nominated by acclamation. He was again nominated by acclamation in 1854, but was defeated by James Pollock. The following year he was elected to the United States senate. The same year he was elected president of the Philadelphia and Erie railroad. He also held other positions of trust and was a member of the constitutional convention of 1873.

these birds in any one week, or more than fifty of these birds in any one season.

Or to kill, in any one day, more than ten quail, commonly called Virginia partridge, or more than forty of these birds in any one week, or more than seventy-five of these birds in any one season.

Hungarian quail are absolutely protected at this time.

Or to kill more than one wild-turkey
in any one day or more than two wild-turkeys in any one season.

Penalty, $25 for each one killed in violation of law.

Or to kill more than ten rabbits in any one day.

Or to kill, in any one day, more than six of the combined kinds of fox, black or gray squirrels.

Penalty, $10.

It is illegal to kill or capture any bear or cub from the first day of January to the first day of October of each year.

Or to have in possession any bear or cub caught or taken during that time.

Penalty, $50 for each bear or cub killed, or possessed contrary to law.

Bear traps must be tagged and surrounded by a barrier.

It is illegal to use ferrets in hunting
rabbits.

Penalty, $25.
Ferrets used in violation of the law
to be killed.

It is illegal at any time to set, lay or prepare or use any kind of a trap, snare, net, bird-line, pit-fall, deer-lick,
turkey blind, turkey call, turkey pen,
or any other kind of a contrivance whatever, with intent to capture or kill, any of the wild birds or animals protected by the laws of this State.

Except that decoys may be used in hunting geese, ducks and brant.

And that rabbits may be taken in season only through the use of a gun and by box trap. Bear may be trapped.

Quail may be trapped from the first day of January to the first day of April for the purpose of keeping them alive during the winter or for the purpose of separating a covey, and all birds so trapped must be released as soon as the weather is suitable in the spring.
Plover can be legally killed from July 15 to December 1, in each year.

Ducks and geese commonly called wild water fowl may be legally killed from September 1 to the 10th day of April next following.

Rail and reed birds can be legally killed from September 1 to January 1.

Blackbirds of all kinds may be killed
from September 1 to January 1.

Doves may be killed from September 1 to January 1.

Penalty, $10 for each bird killed illegally.

It is illegal to hunt or pursue or follow after with intent to kill or injure web footed wild fowl (ducks, geese or brant) from or with any craft propelled by any means other than oars, pole, or hand paddles.

Penalty $50 per day for each day such illegal craft may be used, and forfeiture of all boats, guns, and shooting paraphernalia used in violating the law.

All guns and shooting paraphernalia used in violating any game law of the Commonwealth forfeited, unless penalty imposed and costs be paid.

It is unlawful to hunt game birds of any kind during the night time. Penalty, $50.

It is illegal to hunt or kill for wages or hire, directly or indirectly, any deer, or fawn, ruffed grouse, commonly called pheasant, quail, commonly called Virginia partridge, wild-turkey, or woodcock.

Penalty, $25.

Beaver are protected at all times.

Penalty, $10.

Wolves, woodchucks or ground hogs,
coons, possums, foxes, wild cat, mink,
weasels, skunks, porcupine, musk rats, and red squirrel can be killed at any time.

All non-residents must secure a license before hunting in this State.
Fee, $10. Penalty, $25, and forfeiture of all gunning paraphernalia found in possession of arrested parties.

Game of all kinds may be held in possession for thirty days, after the close of the season for killing the same.

Bears squirrels or rabbits taken alive during the open season for such game, may be kept alive during the close season.

Special attention is called to the fact that all guns, boats and shooting paraphernalia used in violating the law are declared forfeited, unless penalty and costs imposed be paid.

Special attention is called to the fact that a second offense carries sure imprisonment, the payment of the penalty brings no relief.

Special attention is called to the fact that game killed in the Commonwealth may be had in possession only during the open season for such game
and for thirty days thereafter.

Remember, therefore, that when a deer
or a number of deer, are brought out of the woods on the last day of the season, that they must be consumed before the first day of January next following. This is the law. If hunters are not disposed to abide by its provisions they need not kill the deer.

If game of any kind is taken at all, it is taken under the provisions of the law, and of all the law. If it is taken and had in possession after the lapse of thirty days after the close of the season the holder thereof must be prepared to abide by the consequences.

Special attention of hunters is called to the act relative to trespass. The act is not a game law, but is published for the benefit of sportsmen, both hunters and fishermen.

Special attention is called to section 20 of the act of May 1, 1909, relative to the use of dogs in hunting deer. Who shall be liable to pay penalty, and what shall constitute a violation of this provision.

Bear may be killed as a protection to property or person at any time under certain restrictions.

All taxidermists must secure a license before beginning to operate in Pennsylvania.

Certificates to take birds, their nests
and eggs for scientific study are limited to teachers in public schools and to men connected with public museums.

Persons desiring to raise game in preserves for either sale or gift must secure a license and must make report to the Game Commission.

J. WOOD CLARK ACCEPTS

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR AUDITOR GENERAL.

This Important Office Can Serve as a Check to Extravagance and Corruption.

J. Wood Clark, the famous old candidate for Auditor General, who was collided of his nomination in 1908, has addressed clearly defining the duties of the office for which he was nominated and making it clear that if elected the State would have a check to extravagant and able official. His remarks follows:

The duties of auditor general are of more importance than the average citizen or voter may imagine, in fact he has thought of the matter at all.
In fact, the carelessness and indifference of Pennsylvania voters as to who they choose to public office, is a real reflection on their judgment and good sense. In fact, it is a reflection on the recognition of the past, and the future particularly to the period of construction and equipment of the state capitol building. I should say that our people of the state preferred to be held up and robbed and her wifely blind and hopelessly indifferent people humbugged as a baker for a country circus hoodwinks his listeners
by his blarneyings and his display of impossible performances on painted barney and in exchange willingly and greedily accepts the proffered coin from the hand of the willing scoundrel who later realizes that it is the same old show he has seen since his childhood. The office of auditor general I say is of much importance, for the very good reason that it should serve as a check to extravagance and corruption in expending the state funds.

Selected by Political Boss.

You may ask, have those who previously held the position of auditor general, placed there by the leaders of the Republican party have they been true to their constituents, honorable and upright in conducting the affairs entrusted to them as officers? Unfortunately, in one case, at least, we need not investigate the records of the office, nor call to your attention the names of any previous incumbents, but sadly and painfully refer to the criminal courts of Dauphin county, and the answer is contained in their records. Far be it from me to say that the Republican party as a political party is entirely responsible for the conduct of one of its members to whom they have entrusted the duties of a public office, but I wish to call your attention to the fact that the party has not chosen these representatives in the office of auditor general and state treasurer for many years. They, also, have been dictated by the self-constituted political boss, who sits in his office at Philadelphia, or in the senate chamber at Washington, and the Republican conventions at Harrisburg do his bidding without a protest. Remember, citizens, the voters of this our grand and glorious state can take away
this power and it is your duty as citizens to take it away. Remove these much-abused privileges from corrupt bosses, and place it in the hands of those whom you may designate as proper parties to do your business as members of the business firm "State of Pennsylvania" by name. Let me ask you, when one of you in the hearing of my voice would delegate the management of his private business here in Williamsport to a man whom you had no hand in selecting, but on the contrary was chosen by an outsider who knew nothing of your business, and who cared less as to its success.

A Change is Needed.

I appeal to you as citizens, not as Democrats or Republicans or Prohibitionists, or what not. The business-part of a state, its management, its honest dealings ought to be taken care of by you not by outsiders. We hold that a change in official care of the departments of auditor general and state treasurer is very much needed, and that the fair and impartial tribunal of one who happens to be a Democrat will not protect the party standing of any voter in the state.

In brief, the qualities necessary to the position of auditor general in addition to an average education and a fair amount of ability are a little bit of common sense and a big bit of common honesty.

Do not forget that when a corrupt dictator places a man on his selection
in office, that man must do his bidding, though he approaches the gates of prison in so doing and that situation has occurred here in Pennsylvania, within your memory. Let us do everything in our power to rouse the voters from their lethargy and indifference.
Let all fair-minded citizens, independent of their political faith, join us, and do our duty toward our sovereign states.

Dean Farrar in his "Reminiscences"
says that the first proofs of Dean Stanley's "Sinai and Palestine" informed the reader that from the monastery of Sinai was visible "the horn of the burning bush." This was a fearfully apocalyptic nightmare of the printer's devil for "the horizon of the burning bush." The original proof sheets also stated that on turning the shoulder of Mount Olivet in the walk from Bethany "there suddenly burst upon the spectator a magnificent view of—Jones." In this startling sentence
"Jones" was a transmutation of the "Jerusalem." The dean's abbreviated way of writing "Jerusalem." When the dean answered an invitation to dinner
his hostess has been known to write back and inquire whether his note was an acceptance or a refusal, and when he most kindly replied to the question of some workman the recipient of his letter thanked him, but ventured to request that the tenor of the answer might be written out by some one else,
as he was "not familiar with the handwriting of the aristocracy."

Sale will be held on the premises at 1 o'clock, p. m., when terms will be made known by

A. M. LOCHBAUM, Administrator.

AN ORDINANCE
ACCEPTING THE GRADE, BUILDING LINE, ETC., SURVEY AS MADE BY MASON D. PRATT, AND ESTABLISHING AND CONFIRMING THE SAME AS THE LEGAL GRADE OF THE BOROUGH OF GETTYSBURG, AND THE ERECTION AND CONSTRUCTION OF PAVEMENTS, CURBS, GUTTERS, ETC.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Gettysburg, that it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of the same:

Sec. 1. That the grade survey made and prepared by Mason D. Pratt, civil engineer, of streets, alleys and public thoroughfares, and of the pavements, curbs and gutters along same, in the Borough of Gettysburg, and the location of the building lines of the streets, lanes and public thoroughfares of said Borough, is approved and accepted, and the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Gettysburg hereby approves, accepts and establishes the grades as so furnished by the said Mason D. Pratt as the legal grades for the Borough of Gettysburg, the record of which survey is contained in a book marked "Profiles, Gettysburg, Pa., adopted Dec. 1908, Mason D. Pratt, Civil Engineer," filed with the Borough Surveyor, a copy of which is hereto attached.

Sec. 2. That the monuments erected at proper places in the Borough, established under the supervision of the said Mason D. Pratt, from data of said survey, are accepted.

Sec. 3. All grades heretofore made that are inconsistent and in conflict with the Mason D. Pratt grade and building line survey are hereby repealed.

Enacted into an ordinance this 7th day of Sept., 1909.

J. B. HAMILTON, President.

C. B. KUTZMILLER, Secretary.

Approved this 10th day of Sept., 1909.

Census of Supervisors Appointed

Lewis C. Elliott of York, has been named by President Taft as the supervisor of the 15th census district, composed of the counties of Adams and York. Recommendations for the appointment of supervisors were made to the President by U. S. Senator Penrose. Mr. Elliott is at present assessor of Fourth Ward of York and is a bookkeeper in York County National Bank. It is expected that about next February the supervisors will begin the appointment of enumerators. The number has not yet been determined and will be made on the basis of population. All applications for the position of enumerator will be made to Mr. Elliott.

Whereas, it is necessary that the consent of the Borough of Gettysburg to construct said street railway within the limits thereof be granted by said Borough before such application for a charter be made as aforesaid, now, therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted and ordained by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams county, Pennsylvania, that permission be and is hereby granted unto W. H. Lanius in trust for a proposed street railway company, its successors and assigns, to construct, operate and maintain a line of single track street railway, including the necessary and proper

DIFFICULTIES OF FARMERS

HOW TO PREVENT THE WHEAT AND OATS SMUT.

Some of the Remedies for the Diseases of the Pear and Plum Trees.

Considerable loss occurs to farmers each summer by wheat smut, according to the correspondence of State Zoologist Surface of Pennsylvania. A formalin dip has been recommended in a bulletin heretofore issued by Professor Surface, and letters have been recently received inquiring whether this is a reliable remedy for wheat smut, and how it should be used. The following answers to such queries are one of these letters, in regard to the use of formalin, were made by Professor Surface:

1. Yes, it is a practical preventive for smut of wheat and oats.
2. You use one pint of commercial formalin (forty per cent. solution of formaldehyde) in thirty gallons of water.
3. Immerse the seed for at least forty minutes.
4. The best way to do this is to put the seed into a bag, and let it stand in a barrel of formalin solution, and when you wish to dry it spread it on the barn floor and shovel it over occasionally.
5. The strength is gradually lost by evaporation when it stands open, but not quickly lost.
6. You can dip any number of sacks in the same vessel as long as you replenish it with the same percentage; or, in other words, return what is carried away by the previously removed sacks. You can keep the undiluted formalin in stock as long as you desire.
7. The diluted liquid is not at all dangerous to handle, and the unused seed does not need to be washed after it is dry, as it really does not poison it, as it merely kills germs that are upon it. After it is once dry it is safe to feed it to stock or otherwise use it, if not used for seed.

Leaves of Fruit Trees Damaged.

A Germantown physician sent to State Zoologist Surface two sets of leaves in bad condition, one having been taken from a Seckel pear tree and the other from a Magnum Bonum plum tree. The trees were planted last fall, and the physician asked for "a diagnosis," and a suggestion "as to a cure, if such is possible."

The answer of Prof. Surface was to the effect that the plum trees are suffering for lack of moisture, which has caused the leaves to shrivel and appear as if burnt, while the leaves of the pear tree show evidence of the work of the pear-leaf slug (Caliroa cerasi).

"This pear-leaf slug," the Professor continued, "is a serious pest of the leaves of pear trees, eating away the green epidermis and making the leaves look exceedingly brown and scorched. Similar slugs feed on the leaves of cherry trees and do a great deal of damage about midsummer. There is really no need of trees suffering damage from these pests when remedies are so easily applied. There are no insect pests that are more easily destroyed. Dusting with slaked lime alone is sufficient to kill them. Their bodies are always moist, and the fresh caustic lime coming in contact with them seems to burn them and destroy them. A mixture of one part of Paris green in thirty parts of lime before dusting them is advisable. If the lime be not on hand, they can be killed by dusting with a dilute mixture of Paris green and flour, using one part of the former to thirty parts of the latter. They can also be killed by spraying with arsenites, such as arsenate of lead, or Paris green, applied as for the codling moth or other chewing insects on the leaves, and they can be killed by contact insecticides, such as are recommended for sucking insects."

"With such a diversity of efficient remedies it is easy to get rid of pear-leaf or cherry-leaf slugs. These are really not slugs but the larvae of a sawfly or wasp-like insect. They will soon go into the ground where they spend the winter, to emerge as four-winged creatures next spring. Your plum tree should be watered abundantly with water containing a teaspoonful of nitrate of soda in each gallon of water. This will put new growth into it. Keep the ground cultivated."

Wanted: Fifty Men and Women.

L. M. Buehler the enterprising druggist is advertising today for fifty men and women to take advantage of the special half price offer he is making on Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and get a fifty cent package at half-price, 25 cents.

So positive is he of the remarkable power of this specific to cure these diseases, as well as sick headaches and liver trouble, that he agrees to refund the money to any customer whom this medicine does not quickly relieve and cure.

With Dr. Howard's specific at hand you can eat what you want and have no fear of ill consequences. It strengthens the stomach, gives perfect digestion, regulates the bowels, creates an appetite, and makes life worth living.

This is an unusual opportunity to obtain 60 doses of the best medicine ever made for half its regular price, with the personal guarantee of a well-known business man to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

If you cannot call at L. M. Buehler's store today, send him 25 cents by mail and he will send you a package promptly, charges paid.

Proposed Light Plant at Aspers

An electric light plant at Aspers Station seems to be one of the sure things in the near future. It would be the purpose of the company to sell light and power not only to Aspers, but Bendersville, Biglerville, York Springs and other places. A representative of the proposed company last week made an offer to light York Springs with 32 candle power all night lamps, and furnish 35 lamps for sum of $500 per year. It is said that the towns in the vicinity of the proposed plant have given the project much encouragement.

Burglar in York Springs Post Office

The York Springs postoffice was broken into by burglars on Tuesday night of last week but nothing was taken. They gained entrance by prying open the rear door and ransacked the place but did not find the money they were evidently seeking. They also broke into the cellar of Emmert's store but could not gain entrance to first floor and secured nothing of any value.

The same night four men were scared away from rear of residence of Charles J. Griest and next morning a hole was found bored through the window they were trying to open.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing amendments to sections eight and twenty-one of article four, sections eleven and twelve of article five, sections two, three, and four of article eight, section one of article twelve, and sections two and seven of article fourteen, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and providing a schedule for carrying the amendments into effect.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following are proposed as amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

Amendment One—To Article Four, Section Eight.

Section 2. Amend section eight of article four of the Constitution of Pennsylvania which reads as follows:—

"He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office at the next general election, unless the vacancy shall happen within three calendar months immediately preceding such election, in which case the election for said office shall be held at the second succeeding general election. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal," so as to read as follows:—

He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office on the next election day appropriate to such office, according to the provisions of this Constitution, unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day, in which case the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal.

Amendment Two—To Article Four, Section Twenty-one.

Section 3. Amend section twenty-one of article four, which reads as follows:

"The term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be four years; of the Auditor General three years; and of the State Treasurer two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms," so as to read:—

The terms of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer shall each be four years; and they shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections; but a State Treasurer, elected in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine, shall serve for three years, and his successors shall be elected at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twelve and in every fourth year thereafter. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms.

Amendment Three—To Article Five, Section Eleven.

Section 4. Amend section eleven of article five, which reads as follows:—

"Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs and townships, by the qualified electors thereof, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of five years. No township, ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township, ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough, ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district," so as to read:—

Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs or townships, by the qualified electors thereof, at the municipal election, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of six years. No township, ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township, ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough, ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district.

Amendment Four—To Article Five, Section Twelve.

Section 5. Amend section twelve of article five of the Constitution, which reads as follows:—

"In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be five years and they shall be elected on general ticket by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected when more than one are to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished," so as to read as follows:—

In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be six years, and they shall be elected on general ticket at the municipal election, by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected when more than one are to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished.

Amendment Five—To Article Eight, Section Two.

Section 6. Amend section two of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"The general election shall be held annually on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto," so as to read:—

The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each even-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an even-numbered year.

Amendment Six—To Article Eight, Section Three.

Section 7. Amend section three of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"All elections for city, ward, borough and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the third Tuesday of February," so as to read:—

All judges elected by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough, and township officers for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an odd-numbered year.

Amendment Seven—To Article Eight, Section Fourteen.

Section 8. Amend section fourteen of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen annually by the citizens. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service," so as to read:—

District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen biennially, by the citizens at the municipal election; but the General Assembly may require said boards to be appointed in such manner as it may by law provide. Laws regulating the appointment of said boards may be enacted to apply to cities only: Provided, That such laws be uniform for cities of the same class. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record, or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service.

Amendment Eight—To Article Twelve, Section One.

Section 9. Amend section one, article twelve, which reads as follows:—

"All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law," so as to read:—

All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law: Provided, That elections of State officers shall be held on a general election day, and elections of local officers shall be held on a municipal election day, except when, in either case, special elections may be required to fill unexpired terms.

Amendment Nine—To Article Fourteen, Section Two.

Section 10. Amend section two of article fourteen, which reads as follows:—

"County officers shall be elected at the general elections and shall hold their offices for the term of four years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law," so as to read:—

County officers shall be elected at the municipal elections and shall hold their offices for the term of four years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law.

Amendment Ten—To Article Fourteen, Section Seven.

Section 11. Amend section seven, article fourteen, which reads as follows:—

"Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five and every third year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled," so as to read:—

Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven and every fourth year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled.

Schedule for the Amendments.

Section 12. That no inconvenience may arise from the changes in the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and in order to carry the same into complete operation, it is hereby declared that:—

In the case of officers elected by the people, all terms of office fixed by act of Assembly at an odd number of years shall each be lengthened one year, but the Legislature may change the length of the term, provided the terms for which such officers are elected shall always be for an even number of years.

The above extension of official terms shall not affect officers elected at the general election of one thousand nine hundred and eight; nor any city, ward, borough, township, or election division officers, whose terms of office, under existing law, end in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February, as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years, or is made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. All justices of the peace, magistrates, and aldermen, chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. After the year nineteen hundred and ten, and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide, all terms of city, ward, borough, township, and election division officers shall begin on the first Monday of December in an odd-numbered year.

All city, ward, borough, and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of December of that year.

All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

MRS. HAVE AND MRS. HAVENOT.

The Modest Little Home That Was Happy, Though Poor.

By AGNES DILLON.

(Copyright, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.)

Mrs. Lewis Adelbert Simms paused a moment as the automobile deposited her on the walk before a flat building that, to say the least, was battered, though pathetically respectable looking.

"Dear me!" she said faintly. Then she turned sharply on the imperturbable driver. "Do you mean to say," she asked rather fretfully, "that this is 225 Rosemead court?"

"The same," said the driver.

Two twenty-five, please." As Mrs. Simms opened the elaborate gold mesh purse she carried she was conscious of a bewildered surprise. Of course she had known Carrie had not married wealth, but Carrie's letters in the years during which they had not seen each other had been so cheerful! How any woman could be cheerful living in this little side street was beyond Betty Simms.

Still bewildered and holding her trailing skirts daintily, she entered the building, and another surprise met her. There was no elevator, and Mrs. Lewis Adelbert Simms was used to having elevators when she needed them. Apparently there was nothing to do but to climb, and to the fourth floor too! Each step added to her amazement.

It was impossible to picture Carrie as harassed by poverty. In their school days she had been one of the regal creatures the mere sight of whom called up visions of ermine and old lace of laces and gold coin. They had all been sure Carrie would marry a millionaire. When she did marry she wrote Betty Simms, who had indeed married a millionaire, much to every one's surprise, being a small, quiet, demure little creature of no apparent brilliancy, one of her characteristic letters.

"Mother is furious," Carrie wrote cheerfully, "because Tom isn't rich. I can't make her see we shall be far too busy just being happy to have the mere matter of money count. As for that, some day Tom will be rich. He has the brains!"

And this was all Tom's brains had done for Carrie in six years! When she had written Carrie she would pass through her town and wanted to look her up the prompt reply and invitation to luncheon had not mentioned those three flights of stairs. Perhaps Carrie was so used to them she had not thought. Mrs. Simms pressed the button beside the door.

There was a clatter of feet down in the inside hall and a woman's voice in laughing protest, and the door opened to precipitate a small sized avalanche of small boy and barking, woolly dog almost into the astonished arms of the caller. Behind the avalanche stood Carrie.

"Betty at last!" she cried. "Anthony, let the lady in! Take Sub away. We call the dog Substitute because he's such a ridiculous imitation of a real hearty dog."

Mrs. Simms found herself drawn by her friend across the tiny hall into the living room, and there the two took a good look at each other. Carrie, the regal Carrie, stood clad in a blue and white wash shirt waist suit that would not be injured by entry into the kitchen. Above it the old brilliant, eager face, thinner, with hints of lines and with its interested, searching brown eyes, looked down as of old on Betty Simms in her Paris wrap and her trading gown. There was a compassion in Betty's eyes that shone forth unknown to her, and Carrie laughed her old gay laugh.

"You paid at least $40 for that love of a hat, Betty," she said, "but perhaps you won't mind taking it off and laying it on my $16.50 bed."

"It's a bit of paradise," said Betty mechanically as she struggled with the hatpins. The dresser silver was the same Carrie had had at school, with no additions. The dresser scarf was only hemstitched scrim, and the bedspread, though dainty, was of a flowered silkoline that Betty knew in her soul had been picked up for a few cents a yard.

Still dazed, she followed her hostess back into the little parlor. In spite of its smallness it looked bare. Not a superfluous article adorned its walls. The mantel boasted a single ornament—a jar of quaint pottery. The books on the table, however, were plentiful. The single small rug on the waxed floor was an oriental. Through the arch the dining room table showed weathered oak, artistic, but the cheapest of woods.

"Tell me all about yourself, Betty," her hostess was begging.

For an instant Mrs. Lewis Adelbert Simms groped for words. "Why," she laughed, a trifle ruefully, "there isn't anything to tell! I just got married, and life goes on, and there are lots of parties and dinners and things, and I always seem to be in a terrible rush, or else Lewis is, and we never have time for anything!"

"I see," said her hostess, a little quietly, her great eyes taking in the somewhat expressionless face of the other. "Will you excuse me while I put lunch on the table—unless you want to come into the kitchen with me?"

She smiled as if giving an invitation to come into the conservatory, and Betty Simms followed and, sitting on a wooden chair, watched Carrie's deft movement from cupboard to refrigerator and to the stove.

"Why," she said involuntarily, "you act as if you like doing this, Carrie Peabody!"

Carrie paused on her way to the table "I don't mind," she said. "It's only a means to an end. He wants you to like him, Betty."

Mrs. Simms beamed into the face of small Anthony clutching her gown and, lifting him up, was surprised to have him cuddle down contentedly as one used to being held and made much of.

Sub, the woolly dog, followed, and many emotions chased themselves through the head of Mrs. Simms. To her credit, not once did she think of the possible wrinkling and spoiling of her gown. When before in her life had her arms been full of woolly dog and little boy? It was a new sensation.

None of her friends seemed as intimately acquainted with their own children as Carrie was with hers. Never before at luncheon had Mrs. Simms so much as seen a child, let alone touched one. Yet somehow Anthony did not seem out of place here nor in the way. He seemed part of the household and to take his place naturally.

It was a very simple luncheon, though a dainty one, and it tasted amazingly good to the visitor, who was rather silent. She was trying to reconcile the cheerful face of Carrie Peabody with the account Carrie was giving of her life.

"It has been hard on Tom," she was saying. "The company he was with when we married failed, and that ended putting his invention through. And when he did get another place typhoid took him, you know, and it was months—well, we got through somehow. I had a few hundreds of my own saved for some emergency, and I concluded the emergency had arrived. And things have kept coming up—Tom's brother's trouble and then this small boy of ours, and with it all we've been, as I wrote you, Betty, poor—very poor."

"But," said the woman, listening, struggling to adjust the facts before her—"but you seem so happy, Carrie. There was a hint of envy in her tone.

"Why shouldn't I be?" asked the woman in the blue wash gown, Anthony on her knee. "Some time it will be better, when Tom gets a firm hold on things, and I have him and Anthony, and we all care truly about each other, and because we aren't rich enough to go outside to find distraction and amusement we've learned to depend on each other, and we're very contented doing it, Betty. We're very happy in this little cheap flat. Why, I suppose we're just as happy as you and Lewis, with all your money and what it brings into your lives."

Across the face of the listening woman there was a faraway expression that was tinged with a little bitterness. It was as if she were looking into her past and seeing many things.

"Carrie," she spoke suddenly, enviously, "I'd give all it has brought me and ever bids fair to bring me for one minute of the perfect companionship poverty has brought you and Tom. And for Anthony—yes, and for the woolly dog that loves you all."

"I'm sorry about the stairs," Carrie told her guest as she watched her depart a little later to the puffing automobile below.

"Oh," said Betty, "I never thought of them! I'm thinking about something else. Stairs really don't matter much, after all."

And the curve of the descent swallowed up the bird of paradise as Mrs. Lewis Adelbert Simms went back with a strange reluctance to the world of elevators and unlimited credit.

Dictionary Readers.

That the natives of Nigeria are capable of advanced forms of education is apparently proved by this little incident told by Constance Larymore in "A Resident's Wife in Nigeria."

"My husband told me that in the course of the patrol they passed through a valley where the inhabitants of the rocks and hills above apparently made their homes in holes and caves. One member of the party idly asked what was the scientific name for cave dwellers, the word having slipped his memory for the moment. No one appeared to be able to supply the word. But then the native interpreter, plodding along behind, came up, saying: 'Pardon me, sir. Don't you mean troglodytes?'"

"The Englishman, amazed, asked where he had ever heard such a word, and 'George' replied placidly, 'I was reading a dictionary one day and saw it.'"

Like Mistress, Like Maid.

"Have you ever noticed," asked the society woman, "that a lady's maid always acquires the same voice, over the telephone at least, that her mistress has? I don't know whether it is unconscious or deliberate, but I have noticed for a long time that whenever I ring up a friend I am answered by what I think is her own voice, and when I venture to say, 'Oh, good morning, Gertrude,' behold it isn't Gertrude at all, nor Grace, nor Beatrice, but her very courteous maid. If, on the other hand, I say, 'I should like to speak to Miss Miltons,' then it proves to be my dearest friend, who is, of course, cholly because I have mistaken her melodious voice for that of the maid."

"Yes, they even change their voices with a change of mistresses. No, I don't know how they do it. I suppose it is the habit of being so adaptable. I should think some of them might even graduate on to the stage and do character work."—New York Press.

Uncle Paid.

Many years ago Shuter, a popular actor, was engaged for a few nights in a principal city in the north of England. It was in the coaching days, and it happened that the stage in which he traveled (and in which there were only an old gentleman and himself) was stopped by a single highwayman.

The old gentleman pretended to be asleep, but Shuter resolved to be even with him. Accordingly, when the highwayman presented his pistol and commanded Shuter to deliver his money instantly or he was a dead man, "Money!" returned he, with an idiotic shrug and a countenance impressively vacant. "Oh, lor, sir! They never trust me with any, for uncle here always pays for me, turnpikes and all, your honor."

Upon which the highwayman gave him a few curses for his stupidity, complimented the old gentleman with a smart slap on the face to awaken him and robbed him of every shilling he had in his pocket, while Shuter, who did not lose a single farthing, with great satisfaction and merriment pursued his journey, laughing heartily at his fellow traveler.

Cooking on the Trail.

Our guide allowed me to assist him in preparing the breakfast, though I fancy my assistance might have been easily dispensed with. He sagely remarked that if I was going to rough it I might as well begin learning now as any time. It was astonishing how appetizing a meal he prepared with the very fewest conveniences. For instance, he made bread in the sack of flour without using a bread pan. He hollowed out a cavity in the flour, poured in water, added salt and baking powder in proper quantities, then proceeded to mix the dough. He did another thing in his cooking that amused me very much. To prevent the coffee boiling over he placed a small willow stick across the open top of the pot. The lesson in physics soon followed. The coffee bubbled and then rushed up to the top of the pot as though it was going to boil over the sides and extinguish the fire, but as soon as it touched the willow it subsided like some sentient thing.—Forest and Stream.

Captain John Smith and Rats.

The intrepid navigator Captain John Smith in the course of his journeying in the Bermudas had some experience of the rat as a destructive force. "But the great God of heaven," he writes, "caused such an increase of silly rats in the space of two years so that abound before they regarded them to that they filled not only those places where they were first landed, but swimming from place to place, spread themselves into all parts of the country, insomuch that there was no land but it was pestered with them, and some fishes have been taken with rats in their bellies which they caught in swimming from lie to lie. Their nests they had in almost every tree and in most places their burrows in the ground like cones. They spared not the fruits of the plants or trees or the very plants themselves, but ate them up." All efforts to exterminate these vermin proved unsuccessful, and the unfortunate colonists "were destitute of bread for a yeere or two."

The Traveler's Joy.

The cream of tartar tree, which is also called the "sour gourd," grows in northern Australia and has a trunk which measures from seventy to eighty-five feet in circumference, but which is only twenty or thirty feet high. The wood is soft and juicy and when steeped in water provides the thirsty traveler with a refreshing and cooling drink. The fruit is about six inches long, shaped like a lemon and contains a gently acid pulp, which tastes like cream of tartar. Wherever it is to be found a small encampment of weary wayfarers unfurl their tents. When sighted in the bush the famous tree is always greeted with a song written by the early bushrangers called "Sing Hey For the Traveler's Joy."—New York Telegram.

All Unrepeated.

A titled Englishman was speaking of the impoverished nobility of the old world.

"What a German friend of mine said of his family is true of too many families. My friend was a graf. I was visiting his castle on the Rhine. He showed me there one day many proofs of his race's antiquity."

"Dear me," said I, stifling a yawn. "I had no idea you went back so far."

"He pointed proudly to an old steel bound chest of black oak."

"Why, my boy," said he, "I've got bills in there dating back to the twelfth century."

Saltin' a Diamond Mine.

A man in South Africa while walking one day over his property with a party of prospectors suggested that they assay some of the soil. In the search that ensued eight rough diamonds were found, and offers began to fly through the air at a rapid rate for the land, when the host's wife called out to her husband, "Why, John, where are the other two?" The sequel to the story is left to the imagination.—Boston Record.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Many farms, both large and small, in different parts of the county. A number of them on very easy terms and at a low rate of interest. Quite a number of houses and lots in the Borough of Gettysburg. Those who contemplate buying are invited to call on or address the undersigned who will show the properties and make known terms. Just now I am much interested in selling an up-to-date dwelling house on Springs avenue. Also the house and lot on the corner of Baltimore and Breckenridge streets, known as the Pierce property. Also a farm of one hundred acres, with large up-to-date buildings, located one and one-half miles from Gettysburg. The land is in a high state of cultivation. The good will of the largest dairy route in Gettysburg, will go with it. Also a mill property not far from Harney, Md. I represent a number of good companies and can insure your buildings against loss by fire.

TIME TO DO THE FALL BUYING

This store has not arrived to its present stage of usefulness by chance. There is no luck or speculation about this business; it is the result of downright, honest, hard work. Work where the interests of the consumers of this community have been carefully studied. Our business and store has gradually grown to its present proportions. We number our customers and business friends by the thousand. They know us and have confidence in our merchandise and prices. It has been our aim to Better our Best and we believe that our Fall offerings are better, more varied in most instances, than ever before.

THE FALL STOCK INVITES YOU and as there are strong inducements in the wholesale market, many goods not contracted for, as we did—early—must be advanced to the consumer, so the earlier you fill your wants there will be to pay.

Tailor Made Suits

A lady is never so well dressed on the street as when she wears a Tailor Made Suit—A Man's Verdict.

We are showing now over 75 styles and colors of Tailored Suits in such a variety of sizes that almost all forms can be fitted.

Ladies Suits as low as $7.50 and $8.00 in this season's styles, from that on up to $10, $12, $15 up to $35

A Street Suit

for the College Girl and her High School Sister. We have made special preparation to fit out, in a refined and inconspicuous manner, the Miss whose skirts are not full length, and who requires a coat of different shape from that of her full grown sister. These suits are made in sizes 13, 15, 17 years, and are called "Junior Misses." A young girl in such a suit will look charming and youthful instead of a pocket edition of mother's styles. Prices

$10.75, $15 and $18.50

Coats for Babies and Tots

Such a variety that all comers can be fitted out according to your ideas of price you desire to pay.

The Top Coat

The coat to wear over the suit for colder weather is here in all the glory of correct tailoring and variety of weight, quality and price, yet none that are not right for the price.

Novelty Styles as well as the plainer all the time style, are here. Coat for dressy occasions as well as those for regular hard wear. Coats for all sizes and ages.

LADIES' and MISSES' CARACUL and PLUSH COATS. Fashion will popularize these Coats this season. The buyer from the early stock will save money.

The COLLEGE GIRL'S COAT, as well as the SCHOOL GIRL'S COAT, of materials that will stand knocks, style and quality. No extra cost for the style—you pay only for quality here.

P. S. We have coats to fit the extra large lady—up to size 50.

Ladies' Half and Three-quarter Length JACKETS, sizes for irregular shapes as well as perfect forms—$5, $5.75, $15.

Silk and Net Waists

Newest Ideas. White Linen Tailored Waists from $1.00 to $3.50 Unless you like the pleasure of embroidering your own Waist—the price is much less than you can have it done for.

The Separate Skirt

In the new plait styles—in all grades. Skirts for the Miss as well as the Grown Ups, at any price you choose to pay. A Tailored Skirt has the same style to it as the Tailored Suit.

Bed Furnishings.
